A herd of mule deer

Photo — courtesy Utah Fish and Game Departme

Map and drawings — courtesy Utah Publicity Department

Hunting map of Utah

"Utah has within its borders during ne year about 400 different species of irds. Approximately 200 have been lentified at the Bear River, Farmington ay, and Ogden Bay migratory bird refges. These marshland bird refuges are mong the best breeding grounds in Vestern America."

"I didn't know that there were that nany birds in the world," Carlos Garcia remarked. "Will you tell us the names of some of them?"

"Yes, certainly. Among the birds are numerous eagles, hawks, and owls of various kinds. There are also blackbirds, magpies, crows, blue jays, robins, bluebirds, orioles, swallows, hummingbirds, woodpeckers, warblers, meadow larks, and many others. Several islands of the Great Salt Lake serve as breeding places